

Derek Parker

Derek Parker made his first radio broadcast in 1947, and was a well-known arts reporter on BBC radio for forty years - known in Australia through broadcasts on the BBC World Service before coming here in 2002, and happily joining the Fine Music family. Now semi-retired, he presents one programme a month for Fine Music.